Dr. Kimberly Allison is director of Breast Pathology at University of Washington Medical Center (Seattle, WA) where she specializes in breast cancer diagnosis. As a 33-year-old new mother, she never expected to diagnose her own malignant cells under the microscope. Her personal experience as a breast cancer patient coupled with her education and professional experience led Dr. Allison to write a poignant and powerful autobiography, Red Sunshine -- an uplifting story of survival in which Dr. Allison shares all the intimate details of her emotional journey with both humor and honesty.

Join us at this special Breast Cancer Awareness presentation to hear Dr. Allison share her personal story and to celebrate the lives of all those who have been touched by breast cancer.
